The Company offers a range of benefits and allowances to employees which are linked to your position and job grade. Further information will be made available to you from your Commencement Date. Where required by law, particulars of benefit entitlements are detailed in Schedule 1.

All benefits or allowances provided to you are subject the terms and conditions of the relevant Plan Guidelines and rules. For insured benefits, these are subject to the terms and conditions of the relevant insurance policy and are conditional on you complying with and satisfying any applicable requirements of the insurer.

Unless otherwise stated in Schedule 1, provision of these benefits does not form part of your contract of employment.

The Company reserves the right to amend, alter the level of cover provided or to cease to provide, with or without replacement, any of the benefits under the scheme at any time.

10. HOURS OF WORK

Your normal hours of work are detailed in Schedule 1, although it may be necessary to work hours in excess of this on occasions. If you are entitled to overtime payments for the excess hours worked, this is detailed at Schedule 1.

Further information on your rights concerning the hours you work and when you work them will be made available to you from your Commencement Date.

11. PLACE OF WORK

Your normal place for work, or relevant territory, together with your country of work/employment are detailed in Schedule 1. The Company also operates a hybrid working arrangement which, where applicable and subject to the rules of the policy, allows eligible employees to split their time between attending the office and working remotely. Hybrid working applies to certain jobs and your eligibility to participate is detailed in Schedule 1. Further information on the policy for hybrid working will be made available to you from your Commencement Date.

The Company reserves the right to amend, alter or to cease the hybrid working policy, with or without replacement, at any time.

The Company may at any time, as permitted by law, require you to work at any other location or in any other territory of the Company, present or future, (either on a permanent or temporary basis) according to business needs. The Company reserves the right at its sole discretion to alter the geographical area covered by any of its territories from time to time.

You may be required to travel abroad. The Company may require you to work outside of your home country for a continuous period not exceeding one month. However, the Company does not envisage at the present time that you will be required to work outside of your country of work/employment for a continuous period of more than one month during your employment, although it reserves the right to require this.

Any additional travel requirements related to your position and/or job grade are detailed in Schedule 2.

12. HOLIDAYS

Your holiday entitlement is detailed in Schedule 1. In addition, you are entitled to the statutory public holidays applicable in your country of work/employment (calculated on a pro-rated basis if you work reduced hours). Each year, you will be informed of Company closure dates via the HR Website, and you may be required to take part of your annual holiday at those times at the discretion of the Company.
