EMPLOYEE CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION, INVENTIONS, AND ORIGINAL WORKS OF AUTHORSHIP AGREEMENT,

Including Computer Use, Telecommunications & Associated Technologies

Employee's Name: Tamanna

In consideration of my employment by Cargill ("Cargill" as used herein includes Cargill, Incorporated, its existing and future subsidiaries, and affiliated companies), I hereby agree as follows:

I. Confidential Information.

- A. I will not make any unauthorized disclosure to Cargill of any secret or confidential information of others.
- B. I will not at any time, either during or after the termination of my employment with Cargill, use, disclose, or communicate to any person, firm, or corporation in any manner whatsoever any trade secrets of Cargill or any confidential information of Cargill except as required by my duties to Cargill, by law, or court order or, if I am a lawyer, by the rules of professional conduct. This includes, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, information regarding any of its customers, the prices it obtains or has obtained from the sale of, or at which it sells or has sold, its products, or any other information concerning the business of Cargill, its manner of operation, its plans, processes, or other data. I understand that the same are important, material, and confidential and may gravely affect the effective and successful conduct of Cargill's business, and Cargill's goodwill, and that any breach of the terms of this paragraph shall be a material breach of this Agreement.

As such, I will not accept employment with any third-party employer in a job which, in essence, would require or compel me to provide Cargill trade secrets or confidential information by virtue of the job duties that I would be required or expected to perform for the third-party employer.

- C. I will return to Cargill, at the time of termination of my employment with Cargill, all trade secrets or other confidential information and materials specifically including any and all documents, videos, recordings and/or notes of any type involving or relating to Cargill litigation or potential/anticipated litigation of whatever nature arising from my employment with Cargill (e.g., manuals, employee identification and business cards, etc.).
- D. I understand that my misuse of computers, telecommunications, and associated technologies will greatly increase the potential for loss and compromise of Cargill resources and/or information, and Cargill's exposure to possible risk of legal or regulatory prosecution. Accordingly, I agree to:
1. Not disclose to third parties or use their behalf the manner in which Cargill designs its computer systems and gathers, stores, and disseminates information.
 2. Follow Cargill procedures for use, physical protection, access, file back up, privacy, security, and data confidentiality for Cargill computers.
 3. Follow approved Cargill procedures for preventing access to unattended computer and network systems, and otherwise to lock up confidential data and information.
 4. Not provide access by non-Cargill personnel (e.g. customers, suppliers, and contractors) to any Cargill computer or network other than through approved Cargill procedures and access methods.
 5. Not provide unaccompanied access to unauthorized Cargill employees to Cargill computer rooms.
 6. Not access any external system (such as the Internet) other than through Cargill authorized access procedures
 7. Permit access without prior notification to appropriate Cargill management at any time to review my electronic mail, voice mail, and other computer-generated documents on Cargill computer systems, or otherwise to provide access upon request of appropriate Cargill management, pursuant to established Cargill procedures.
 8. Not share my personal passwords for Cargill computers, telephones, and telecommunication systems with any other person.

9. Not install unlicensed software on any computer system by making unauthorized transfer, print, copy, or reproduction of any computer software or related material owned by third parties or licensed to Cargill.
10. Not make any unauthorized transfer, print, copy, or reproduction of any computer software or related materials owned or licensed by Cargill.
11. Check all forms of software and data for viruses before adding them to a Cargill personal computer or to any Cargill system and/or network.

II. Inventions

- A. I agree that all Inventions and Original Works of Authorship (including documents, processes, discoveries, ideas, or improvements, computer software, hardware, or system design, whether patentable/copyrightable or not) conceived or made by me during the period of my employment, and in any way related to the business of Cargill, shall belong to Cargill, and that I will promptly disclose all such Inventions and Original Works of Authorship to Cargill.
- B. Notwithstanding the foregoing, it is understood and agreed that this Section II relating to Inventions and Original Works of Authorship shall not apply to an Invention or Original Work of Authorship for which no equipment, supplies, facilities or trade secret information or other confidential information of Cargill was used and which was developed entirely on my own time completely separate from my Cargill work duties, and
 1. which does not relate
 - a. directly to the business of Cargill; or
 - b. to Cargill's actual or demonstrably anticipated research or development; or
 2. which does not result from any work performed by me for Cargill.
- C. I agree that I will assign to Cargill all my interest in such inventions and copyright registrations; that I will execute any and all applications, assignments or other documents which Cargill may deem necessary to apply for, obtain and enforce Letters Patent and copyright registrations of the United States and of any foreign country; and I will do so and otherwise assist Cargill in connection therewith, at any time as required by Cargill, but at no expense to me.
- D. I have listed on the Addendum to this Agreement all Inventions and Original Works of Authorship, if any, patented or unpatented, copyrighted or uncopyrighted, conceived or made by me prior to my employment with Cargill and which are to be excluded from this Agreement, as well as any restrictions on my employment with Cargill or my obligations hereunder arising from any prior employment or agreement of this nature.

III. Heirs and Assigns.

My obligations hereunder shall extend beyond the date of termination of my employment with Cargill and shall be binding upon my heirs, assigns, and legal representatives. This Agreement supersedes and replaces any existing agreements of the same nature between Cargill and me.

IV. Violations.

My failure to abide by the terms of this Agreement could result in disciplinary action by Cargill up to, and including, termination.

☐ I have read and fully understand this Agreement.

CARGILL INDIA: EMPLOYMENT INFORMATION POLICY NOTICE & CONSENT FORM

This Notice explains how Cargill uses Personal Information about you in an employment context. We refer to this as “Employment Information”. You may also have certain legal rights with respect to Employment Information. This Notice also summarizes what these are.

For further details, please read Cargill's Data Privacy for Employment Information Policy.

If you are a California resident, please click here to review the California Employment Information Notice applicable to you.

1. What employment information does Cargill collect?

Cargill collects various types of Employment Information about you in connection with your work at Cargill. This includes the following categories:

- Contact details, such as address, telephone number and email address, etc.;
- Financial information, such as salary, bank account details, corporate credit card usage, employment benefits, etc;
- Recruitment information, such as CVs, application forms, etc;
- Career information, such as appraisals or performance reviews, disciplinary records, details of skills and experience, absence records, etc;
- Information about your use of Cargill assets, such as computers and phone, etc. (where relevant and permitted to be collected by local law);
- CCTV images and visit information for visitors to Cargill sites.

Cargill generally receives Employment Information directly from you or from third parties, such as Third Party Service Providers that assist with health and safety, travel and expense, and other employment-related purposes described below.

2. What will Cargill do with your employment information?

Generally, Cargill only uses Employment Information for employment-related purposes, including:

- Workforce Planning and Recruitment, such as job advertising, interviewing, selecting and hiring new staff;
- Management and Administration, such as employee career development, compensation and benefits and performance management;
- Performance of Cargill's Business Operations, such as carrying out Cargill's day to day business activities;
- Legal and Regulatory Compliance, such as compliance with health & safety requirements and other legal or fiscal obligations, participating in due diligence activities for the sale or purchase of a business, or in connection with litigation or an internal investigation or audit;
- Security Management, such as activities related to ensuring the security of Cargill premises, assets, information, and Individuals.

Cargill is processing Employment Information because it is necessary for us to do so in connection with your employment contract. In addition, certain processing may be based on your consent or because it is necessary to comply with a legal obligation or to enable us to pursue our legitimate business interests as a leading provider of food, agriculture, financial and industrial products and services

3. Cargill Data Privacy Principles

Cargill observes the following principles in relation to Employment Information:

- We process it fairly and lawfully;
- We process it for a specific legitimate business purpose and do not process in a manner incompatible with that purpose;
- We use Employment Information that is adequate, relevant and not excessive for the purpose for which it is processed;
- We keep it accurate and, as necessary, up to date;
- We keep it in a form which permits identification for no longer than necessary for the purpose for which it was collected;
- We protect it against accidental or unlawful destruction or accidental loss, alteration, unauthorized disclosure or access, using appropriate technical and organizational measures;
- We process it in accordance with an Individual's rights.

4. Who is your employment information disclosed to?

(a) Within Cargill

Cargill restricts access to Employment Information to people within the company who have a “need to know” that information. As a global company doing business across national borders, there are many situations where this “need to know” requires your information to be transferred to Cargill in another country, including countries that may provide no or less legal protection for Personal Information. However, the purpose of the Cargill Data Privacy for Employment Information Policy is to protect your Employment Information in every country where Cargill does business.

(b) Outside Cargill

Cargill shares Employment Information with authorised Third Party Service Providers, such as compensation and benefits providers that have a “need to know” that information. Where it does so, Cargill imposes appropriate contractual obligations regarding Employment Information on such Third Party Providers.

Beyond our Third Party Service Providers, generally, Cargill will only disclose your Employment Information outside Cargill and its Service Providers:

- when required to do so by law;
- in response to a legitimate request for assistance by the police or other law enforcement agency;
- to seek legal advice from Cargill’s external lawyers or in connection with litigation with a third party;
- in connection with the sale, purchase or merger of a business; or
- to provide a third party (such as a potential supplier or customer) with a means of contacting you in the normal course of business, for example, by providing your contact details, such as your business phone number and email address.

5. Exercising Your Rights

If you would like a copy of any of your Employment Information, or if you would like to update or correct it, please use this form.

If you have a concern about how Cargill has used your Employment Information, as a first step, you should raise the concern in writing with your manager. If this is not appropriate for any reason, you should raise the concern in writing with your Local Privacy Champion or the Global Privacy Office, whichever is most appropriate.

If your concern has not resolved been within a reasonable period of time, it may be escalated to the Global Privacy Office by using this form.

After investigating an escalated concern, the Global Privacy Office will respond to you in writing within a reasonable time setting out its conclusions together with details of any remedial action that it proposes to take.

6. Retaining Your Employment Information

We keep your Employment Information in accordance with Cargill’s Record Retention Schedules which are available at
